The website is provided on an “as is” basis. The New York State Center for School Health expressly disclaims all warranties, including the warranties of merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose, errors, inaccuracies, omissions, misleading, or defamatory statements, and non-infringement. The New York State Center for School Health disclaims all responsibility for any loss, injury, claim, liability, or damage of any kind resulting from, arising out of, or in any way related to (a) any errors in or omissions from the website and the content, including but not limited to technical inaccuracies and typographical errors, (b) any third party websites or content therein directly or indirectly accessed through links in the New York State Center for School Health website, including but not limited to any errors in or omissions there from, (c) the unavailability of the New York State Center for School Health website, or (e) the use of any equipment or software in connection with the New York State Center for School Health website.

Security Notice

For site security purposes and to ensure that this service remains available to the largest possible number of visitors, the New York State Center for School Health employs software programs to monitor network traffic to identify unauthorized attempts to upload or change information, or otherwise cause damage. Anyone using this system expressly consents to such monitoring and is advised that if such monitoring reveals evidence of possible abuse or criminal activity, such evidence may be provided to appropriate law enforcement officials. Unauthorized attempts to upload or change information on our servers are strictly prohibited and may be punishable by law. The New York State Center for School Health also employs software programs to monitor incoming and outgoing network traffic in an attempt to prevent transmission of viruses or other harmful programs from our network to other networks or computers. However, New York State Center for School Health is not responsible for any damages that result from malicious programs that are transmitted through our network.
